

Violations & Fees

If you fail to respond to your citation within 14 days, it may result in a warrant for your arrest being issued with additional fees added. If you are disputing your ticket or need to discuss it for any reason, you must contact the court prior to the 14 days to make an appointment for a pre-trial conference. The prosecutor will allow you to give your story and he will be able to explain the charges and show any evidence against you.

Below are some common violations. Underlined violations require a mandatory appearance before the judge and cannot be paid until you are sentenced. Please keep in mind that all bail amounts listed below are only to be used as guidelines and may vary from the judge's sentence. If you were cited for an accident, an additional $30 is added to the primary charge.
