DISCUSSION ITEMS:

6. Discussion on Residential Multi-family (R-7) Zoning Code Updates w/R-5 Overlay

Trevor Cahoon explained the City Council when approving the Final Plat for the South Weber Gateway project, instructed the Code Committee to consider zoning text amendments to facilitate the development in amending the approved final plat to allow for a townhome development for individual ownership. The items that were brought forward by City Staff as areas that prohibited this type of development included the following:

- The exclusion of provisions surrounding zero lot line developments.
- The absence of a dwelling, townhome definition within the code.
- The inclusion of setback provisions that oriented buildings based on lot configuration and not on orientation of the buildings toward a right-of-way.

As the Code Committee reviewed the R-7 zone, it became clear that the ordinance was written with parameters in a similar fashion to a single-family zone thus making it difficult to plan a multi-family development. The reason that these inconsistencies were not noticed in other developments lies in the fact that other projects utilized the Planned Unit Development conditional use section of the city code. The South Weber Gateway was the first project to follow development guidelines strictly under the R-7 zoning code.

As conversation progressed within the Code Committee other areas of concern toward multi-family developments were discussed in relation to the R-7 code and future development. While it is still a desire to limit the use of this zone, the Code Committee discussed various housing types that would be more appealing to future development other than traditional townhome, high-rise, or garden style apartments. Through the conversation the committee identified the main issue with multi-family housing is the visual appeal and congruence of form with surrounding single-family units already established within the area. To answer these concerns two concepts were discussed, type of housing unit and design standards.

In the case of design standards, the State of Utah has limited the city's ability to impose design standards upon single-family developments. It does not prohibit a city from imposing design standards on multi-family units. Therefore, if South Weber City wishes to pursue developing a design standard for multi-family housing this is a possibility. Townhomes are the outlier within this context because although there is more than one unit within the building, state code does identify these units as single-family attached developments. Within the state code there is a provision to allow a city to impose a design standard on single family developments if the code allows for a density incentive utilizing an overlay zone. This would mean that if the city were to allow a developer to have more density than a zone would typically allow, the city would be able to impose design standards for the development.

With this line of thinking, if the city were to seek for particular multi-family or single family units by offering more density, the city would be able to dictate the form of the units themselves. The Code Committee then discussed the possibility of reducing the allowed density within the R-7 zone to 5 units an acre and offering an incentive of 7 units and acre, which would allow the city to have better control on the type of development found within the city.

For example, including smaller single-family housing complexes such as cottage courts. In these types of development, the city would offer a higher density for the creation of single-family homes with smaller lots on a shared court. Some items to discuss would be how many units an acre the city would want to encourage and the style of development.

Mansion style apartments or condos was another housing concept that was attractive to the Code Committee. Allowing a building to look like a large single-family home, but housing 4-7 units within the home. So that appearance would be single family while providing more variety and density of housing.

While the idea is new and needs more work to determine the viability of the incentive, the prospect of this update with an eye toward the Moderate-Income Housing Updates becomes an idea that can provide a better development and use of land within the future. Further discussion on whether it is viable to reduce the R-7 zone's density further and offer the now current density as an incentive would provide the desired outcome would be important for the Planning Commission to discuss.

At this stage it has become necessary to get the feedback from the Planning Commission on the potential changes the R-7 zone and receive their recommendations on what to include in the draft ordinance. The following table breaks down the changes proposed by the Code Committee for the Planning Commission review.

After a discussion in Planning Commission on September 15, the commission gave the following directions to staff to update the code in the following ways:

- Update the definitions as recommended
- Allow townhouses as a permitted use
- Maintain density at 7 units an acre, but explore in a future update overlay zones
- Establish a minimum lot area and minimum lot width
- Utilize sections for zero lot lines and setback orientation for share common space as recommended
- Alter front setback lines to 25 feet to accommodate for large vehicles
- Include diagrams to demonstrate setback requirements

Staff has made updates based on the recommendations from the Planning Commission. The only exception is including a minimum lot area. Staff would recommend that having a minimum lot width would be sufficient to dictate design aesthetic and would allow for more flexibility of design than restricting a minimum lot area. This is something the Planning Commission could recommend be included back in the ordinance.

The Planning Commission met on October 13 to discuss the draft ordinance and make their recommendation to City Council. In a 3-0 discussion by the Planning Commissioners present a recommendation was made to approve the drafted changes to the Residential Multi-family zone and recommend the City Council begin the process in the creation of overlay zones to address design standards in accordance with Utah State code.

In a discussion item with the City Council on October 25, the council expressed a desire for the Planning Commission to have a more in-depth discussion on the reduction of density within the R-7 zone to 5 units per acre and the creation of draft ordinance for an overlay zone to grant bonus density of up to 2 units and the implementation of design standards. The council feels the exploration of creating an overlay zone now would be pertinent to protect the interests of the city in facilitating development standards for projects in South Weber.

The two main questions the council would like answered are: What should be included or covered within an overlay zone? What are the design standards that need to be established within the zoning overlay? This is an initial discussion with the Planning Commission on what the creation of an overlay zone will look like and what design standards would be subject to review.

Commissioner Losee understands this is a draft document but pointed out there are spelling mistakes and typos. Commissioner Boatright expressed he has no issues with the updates and feels it is reflective of what the Planning Commission discussed. Commissioner McFadden and Davis agreed.

7. Planning Commission 2023 Goals

The following items were listed as potential items to focus efforts on in 2023:

- Review water and how to tie the general plan and land use development to water usage.
- Dust mitigation and what the city's standards include when the number of pollutants in the air is violated by some of the land uses in the community.
- Architectural standards review.
- Staker Parsons gravel pit and possibilities for this property after it is no longer a gravel pit.
- Definition of commercial recreation zone and what are we using it for.
- Open land zone for an urban forest interface. This would include making sure wildfires can't jump into other areas of our city in those open land areas.
- Reviewing the sensitive land areas and how to provide standards in city codes and what is the appetite to develop on a hillside.
- Trails and active transportation.

Commissioner Boatright acknowledged water usage is important to focus on. Commissioner McFadden agreed. Commissioner Boatright isn't sure how much the Planning Commission can do about the dust mitigation. Commissioner Losee suggested focusing on sensitive land areas.

Commissioner Davis queried who directs the Code Committee. Commissioner Boatright replied that the Planning Commission gives suggestions to the City Council. He pointed out in the joint meeting with the City Council and Planning Commission they did discuss the possibility of the Chairperson and Co-Chairperson serving on the Code Committee. Commissioner Losee asked how many hours is required. Trevor replied that the Planning Commission receives a stipend and hours are not tracked.

PLANNING COMMISSION COMMENTS:

Trevor Cahoon: reported the city received feedback from the State regarding South Weber City’s Moderate Income Housing Plan. The overall review was positive; however, the State is concerned about Section B’s infrastructure and implementation plan. They requested dates to be included. They also requested the plan be included in the master plan and not a separate document.

ADJOURN: Commissioner Boatright moved to adjourn the Planning Commission meeting at 6:44 p.m. Commissioner Losee seconded the motion. A roll call vote was taken. Commissioners Boatright, Davis, Losee, and McFadden voted aye. The motion carried.

ORDINANCE REVIEW

In the November Planning Commission meeting the Planning Commission discussed the creation of an overlay zone to help encourage quality construction. Throughout the conversation the Commission discussed what things they would like to regulate and require to allow for increased density. Based upon that discussion Staff has drafted an ordinance for a Strategic Growth Overlay zone and made amendments to all areas of the code that reference to the R7 zone to now say R5.

Planning Commission will now make a recommendation on the Amendments to the R-7 Zone, Creation of the SG Overlay Zone and subsequent Rezones of current properties that have the R-7 Designation but do not have any construction within the property. This rezone does not affect any applications that were received or approved prior to the amendment of this ordinance.

BACKGROUND

The City Council when approving the Final Plat for the South Weber Gateway project, instructed the Cod Committee to consider zoning text amendments to facilitate the development in amending the approved final plat to allow for a townhome development for individual ownership. Planning Commission reviewed the ordinance in the December Planning Commission and felt it was ready to make the recommendation.

Title 10 Chapter 20 Article A Strategic Growth Overlay Zone

10-20A-1: Purpose

To provide for areas in strategic locations where neighborhoods of varying degrees of density may be established, maintained and protected. The regulations of this zone are designed to promote an intensively developed residential environment suitable primarily for adult living providing for more units per acre while maintaining the integrity of South Weber City's character.

10-20A-2: Multi-family Zone

A. Combination With Residential Zone R5: The Strategic Growth Zone shall be approved only as specified in this Article. The Strategic Growth Zone shall be used in combination with the R5 Zone designated herein and provisions of the Strategic Growth Overlay Zone shall become supplementary to the provisions of the R5 Zone. The SG Zone shall not be applied to a land area as an independent zone. Property to which the SG Zone has been applied shall be developed only in conformance with an approved final development plan.

B. Designation On Official Zoning Map: The Strategic Growth Zone designation (SG) shall become a suffix to the R5 Zone with which it is combined and shall be shown on the Official Zoning Map in parenthesis as "R5 (SG)".

C. Minimum Acreage: The minimum land area for a Strategic Growth Zone shall be five (5) acres.

10-20A-3: STANDARDS AND REQUIREMENTS:

A Strategic Growth Zone established under the provisions of this Article shall conform to the following standards:

A. Density Bonus: Residential density within a planned development may exceed that permitted by the R5 Zone up to a maximum of sixty percent (60%), at the discretion of the Planning Commission and subject to concurrence of the City Council. The Planning Commission must find, however, that any increase in density will be compensated by increased amenity and improved design which, in its opinion, are proportional to the density increase which it authorizes.

B. Building Locations: With the following exceptions, dwellings and permitted structures may be located as approved in the final development plans. Locations and arrangements of buildings on the lot should be accomplished in a manner that will best utilize the lot area and create an attractive living environment. The following exceptions shall be considered as minimum requirements as they apply:

1. Garages with entrances facing directly on the street, whether in a front or side yard, shall be set back at least twenty-five feet (25') from the property line or right-of-way.

2. Setbacks shall be maintained along the peripheral property lines of the planned development which shall be equal to that required by the zone on the property immediately adjacent thereto.

3. In those instances where a proposed planned development will front upon one or more existing streets, the setback from the street shall be equal to that required by the most restrictive zone on property immediately adjacent along the same street frontage.

C. Open Space: Not less than ten percent (10%) of the gross area of the planned development shall be retained in permanent open space, parks and playgrounds for the use of the occupants of the planned developments. Land proposed to be devoted to vehicular streets or roads, parking, driveways, required setbacks and slopes greater than twenty five percent (25%) shall not be included in computations of open space, park or playground area.

D. Utilities: All dwelling units shall be served by public sewer and a public water supply. All utilities within the planned development shall be placed underground, including telephone, electrical and television cables. Dwelling units under separate ownership shall have separate utility metering.

E. Maximum Height: The maximum height of buildings within a planned development shall be the same as the permitted by the R5 Zone.

F. Design Standards: Architectural site plan review shall be as outlined in South Weber City Code 10-12-3. Finishes of the exterior of the buildings will be subject to the following conditions:

1. Exterior Finishes. All structures shall use durable materials on exterior finishes, including brick, stone, Hardie board, architectural metal, or engineered wood on all facades. Aluminum or vinyl siding shall not be used as an exterior finish. Use of vinyl siding shall be limited to 10% of the total surface.

2. Architectural Variation. Structures shall provide visible articulation in their design. Articulation shall be required on each side of the structures.

3. Garage Dimensions. Individual garages shall be constructed to reasonably accommodate two standard vehicles, measured no less than 22 feet in width and length.

5. Roof Style. Roof design shall not include the use of flat roofs.

AGENDA ITEM

Ordinance 2023-03: Moderate Income Housing Amendments

PURPOSE

The Planning Commission needs to review The Moderate-Income Housing (MIH) Plan Amendments necessitated by review of the Department of Workforce Services, and make a decision on amendments that need to be made due to new State legislation.

BACKGROUND

HB 462 - Utah Housing Affordability Amendments became law on June 1st, 2022. HB 462 creates new and modifies existing requirements for certain municipalities. The Moderate-Income housing plan provisions apply to the same list of cities as SB 34 applied to. Approved during the 2022 General Session, the "Utah Housing Affordability Amendments" modified many of the provisions related to affordable housing that were in the 2010 SB 34 legislation.

Highlights of HB 462

- Clarifies MIH requirement and timing to amend your General Plan
- Requires the inclusion of an implementation plan to bring the MIH element to life
- Amends the list of strategies to use
- Outlines the annual reporting requirement
- Adds priority incentives/restrictions for compliance with the MIH requirement

The inclusion of the moderate-income housing element within a county or municipal General Plan is based on population. If the population of the municipality is at least 5,000 people, the General Plan must include this element. For counties, the total county population must be at least 40,000 people with at least 5,000 people in the unincorporated portion.

In order to ensure that jurisdictions are not only envisioning the increase of moderate-income housing but establishing concrete steps to make it happen, HB 462 amends the code to require the inclusion of an implementation plan within the General Plan.

HB 462 has amended the list of strategies that municipalities and counties can consider and use within the moderate-income housing elements. Many of the previous strategies have been revised and/or combined to provide better clarity while a number of new strategies have been added for consideration. Strategies need actionable implementation steps.

After sending the approved items to the State South Weber City was informed that more detail was needed for the Option B and so this portion has been amended and reads as follows:

PRESERVING AND ENCOURAGING MODERATE INCOME HOUSING:

There are many factors that affect the cost of housing. It is the duty and responsibility of the City to take necessary steps to encourage moderate income housing.

Utah Code Annotated 10-9a-403 (2) (b) (iii) requires the City to choose at least three from a list of 23 ways, A through W, in which it can and will pursue the encouragement of moderate-income housing in the next five years. South Weber chooses the following:

(B) Demonstrate investment in the rehabilitation or expansion of infrastructure that facilitates the construction of moderate-income housing.

Implementation Plan:

Winter 2023 – Adoption of Transportation Master Plan

Spring 2023 – Adoption of Water Capital Facilities Plan

Summer 2023 – Adoption of Sewer Capital Facilities Plan

Summer 2023 – Update Storm Water Capital Facilities Plan

Winter 2024 – Begin Process of updating City's General Plan

Fall 2024 – Adopt Updated General Plan with infrastructure needs.

(E) Create or allow for, and reduce regulations to, internal or detached accessory dwelling units in residential zones.

Exhibit 1

South Weber City Moderate Income Housing Plan 2019

A Part of the South Weber General Plan
Amended XX.XX.2023

WHAT IS MODERATE INCOME HOUSING

In accordance with section 10-9a-403 Utah Code Annotated, South Weber is providing reasonable opportunities for a variety of housing including housing which would be considered moderate income housing to meet the needs of people of various income levels living, working, or desiring to live or work in the community, and to allow people with various incomes to benefit from and fully participate in all aspects of neighborhood and community life.

Moderate income housing is defined in the Utah Code as:

Housing occupied or reserved for occupancy by households with a gross household income equal to or less than 80% of the median gross income for households of the same size in the county in which the city is located.

According to this definition, any dwelling occupied by an individual or family with income equal to or less than 80% of the median income of the county would qualify as moderate income housing, regardless of the circumstances under which the dwelling is occupied. For instance, it could be that the house was inherited and though valued at something far more than a family of moderate income could afford to purchase; it is nevertheless, occupied by a family whose income is below 80% of the regional median. That house, therefore, is a moderate-income house by definition. The same could be said for homes that have been in the same ownership for a long time and for which the mortgage was established prior to many years of inflation and rising housing costs. The occupants might be able to afford what, if mortgaged today, would be far out of their financial reach.

This type of Moderate-Income Housing is the least quantifiable type. Without extensive surveys and analysis of household incomes and home values, we have no way of knowing what existing single-family housing units fall into this category. We can, however, deduce how many of this kind of dwelling units there are. According to the U.S. Census Bureau 24% of South Weber Residents fall into the moderate-income category. We know that approximately 5% of existing housing is currently being rented at a rate that would qualify it as moderate-income housing. This tells us that 79% of the current moderate-income households are in dwellings of this type.

WHAT IS MODERATE-INCOME IN SOUTH WEBER:

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the 2017 median household income for Davis County is $75,961 ($95,000 for South Weber City). Eighty percent of that County median income is then $60,768. Information extrapolated from the Utah Affordable Housing Manual indicates that a household with this income level could afford to purchase a dwelling which has a maximum purchase price of 3.1 times the annual income. In the case of South Weber that translates to a maximum purchase price of $188,380. The same manual indicates that 27% of the monthly income could be spent on rent which would mean a maximum monthly rent of $1,367.

PRESERVING AND ENCOURAGING MODERATE INCOME HOUSING:

There are many factors that affect the cost of housing. It is the duty and responsibility of the City to take necessary steps to encourage moderate income housing.

Utah Code Annotated 10-9a-403 (2) (b) (iii) requires the City to choose at least three from a list of 23 ways, A through W, in which it can and will pursue the encouragement of moderate-income housing in the next five years. South Weber chooses the following:

(B) Demonstrate investment in the rehabilitation or expansion of infrastructure that facilitates the construction of moderate income housing.

Implementation Plan:

Winter 2023 – Adoption of Transportation Master Plan

Spring 2023 – Adoption of Water Capital Facilities Plan

Summer 2023 – Adoption of Sewer Capital Facilities Plan

Summer 2023 – Update Storm Water Capital Facilities Plan

Winter 2024 – Begin Process of updating City's General Plan

Fall 2024 – Adopt Updated General Plan with infrastructure needs.

(E) Create or allow for, and reduce regulations to, internal or detached accessory dwelling units in residential zones.

Implementation Plan:

Fall 2022 - Study options for allowing detached accessory dwelling units.

Winter 2023 - Discuss with City Council and Planning Commission the options that are available to allow detached accessory dwelling units.

Spring 2023 - Begin crafting a draft ordinance for detached accessory dwelling units.

Spring 2023 - Take the draft ordinance through the process.

(I) Amend land use regulations to allow for single occupancy developments.

Implementation Plan:

Complete July 2023 – Study residential zones for the inclusion of single occupancy developments as a permitted use.

Begin Winter 2023 – Determine other guiding materials and code that would be necessary to regulate single occupancy developments for South Weber City.

Begin Spring 2024 – Study locations to designate within the City’s general plan for this use.

Complete Spring 2025 – Draft Ordinance for Planning Commission and City Council review and approval.

MODERATE-INCOME HOUSING NEEDS:

An analysis the existing housing and household incomes using available information leads to some reasonable conclusions as to need.

|--|----------|
| Number of Dwelling Units 2017 | 172 |
| 2017 Population | 731 |
| Persons Per Household 2017 | 4.2 |
| 2017 Median Davis County Annual Household Income | $75,961 |
| 2017 Annual Household Moderate Income | $60,768 |

DRAFT

Once again by extrapolating from information contained in the Utah Affordable Housing Manual, we find that a household with this income level could afford a mortgage of approximately 3.1 times the annual income or could afford to spend 27% of their monthly income on rent.

Maximum Purchase Price $$60,768 \times 3.1 = $188,380$
 Maximum Monthly Rent $$60,768/12 = $5,064 \times .27 = $1,367$

It appears that rental units are the most attainable type of new moderate-income housing likely to be established in South Weber. There are currently 87 rental units in the City, 60 being in one apartment complex and the rest are basement type apartments. Rental units comprise 5% of the existing housing stock in the City.

As previously stated, 79% of current moderate-income households are residing in existing single-family dwellings; 326 dwelling units. It is reasonable to expect that, as existing residents age in-place (stay in their current homes as they move into higher age categories), there will be a significant number of owner-occupied dwellings that transition into moderate-income housing. The number of dwellings that will do this is difficult to predict, but if the current percentages persist, there would be an additional 257 additional owner-occupied dwellings move into moderate-income status within the next 20 years for a total of 583 such dwellings.

It is estimated there will be a total of 3,076 dwelling units in South Weber at build-out. If 24% of them are moderate-income, there will be 738 such units. There are currently 87 rental units and 326 owner occupied moderate-income households; a total of 413 units. Of a total build-out need for 738 moderate-income units, 413 are existing and an expected 257 additional units will be owner occupied. This means there will be a need for an additional 68 rental units at build-out in 20 years. That would be an additional 17 rental units needed in the next five years.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

If current trends continue, owner-occupied housing, both single-family and multi-family dwellings, will be the primary type of moderate-income housing. Multi-family rental units will play a smaller part in meeting future demand.

It is a given that South Weber will need to increase its stock of moderate-income housing as the population grows. It seems likely that the bulk of the future demand will be met by existing dwellings as the occupants age in-place. There will be a limited demand for rental type dwellings. It is very realistic to believe the City will be able to accommodate the estimated need of 68 additional rental units.

It is recommended that South Weber continue to support the existing moderate-income housing by finding appropriate locations for the needed rental units.
